"OFFSHORE CAPITAL MOVEMENT: THE CASE OF SWITZERLAND'S ROLE AS AN INTERNATIONAL FINANCIAL CENTRE"

A PROJECT REPORT SUBMITTED TO THE DEPARTMENT OF BANKING AND FINANCE, FACULTY OF BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION, UNIVERSITY OF NIGERIA, ENUGU CAMPUS

IN PARTIAL FULFILMENT OF THE REQUIREMENTS FOR THE AWARD OF THE DEGREE OF MASTER OF BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION IN BANKING AND FINANCE

BY

AJA, BONIFACE AUDU
PG/MBA/98/45057

JUNE 2001

ABSTRACT

Offshore capital movement a globalize phenomenon which concerns movement of capital from one country of the world to another. This modern phenomenon call globalization which is tended toward financial integrated of the world into one common economic village, have left some economies badly devastated and others economy blossomed.

A few countries mainly the under developed, have suffered problems of capital flight and the developed economies like Switzerland have gotten their economy built into a strong international finance center. All these necessitated this research study.

The research study covers five chapters. Chapter one covers the background to the problem, statement of the problem, objective, scope and delimitation of the study, the limitation, significance of the study.

Chapter two reviews relevant literatures to the study.